

A PLACE WE GO TO REMEMBER

For String Quartet and Voice

Featuring Pinchas Zukerman, Amanda Forsyth, Natalia Zukerman

In remembrance of those who gave their lives

Inspired by the book: Maya Lin: Artist-Architect of Light and Lines

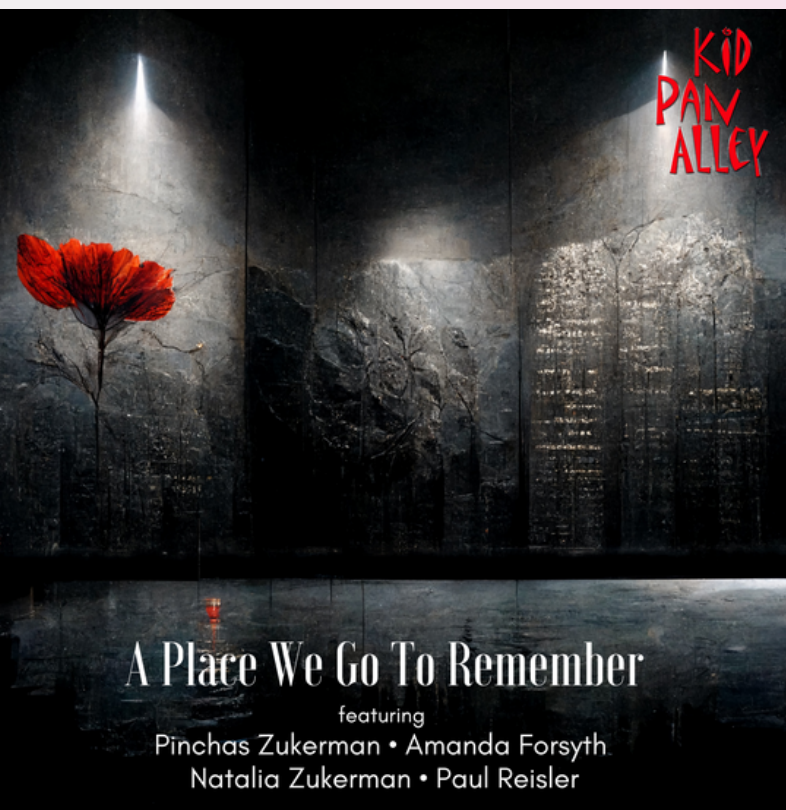

Written by Paul Reisler, Natalia Zukerman & 4th grade, Pocahontas Elementary

After reading a book about Maya Lin and the Vietnam Wall Memorial as part of Kid Pan Alley's Singing Their Stories literacy program, the children responded by writing a song about what they'd read.

Our friends, world renowned violinist, violist, conductor, and multiple Grammy winner Pinchas Zukerman, and cellist Amanda Forsyth recorded the song with us. The Los Angeles Times called Zukerman, "A virtuoso: expressively resourceful, infectious musical, technically impeccable, and effortless."

The song honors those veterans who have served our country. May they always be remembered.

*There's a place we go to remember
A wound in the earth that needs healing
A wall that holds the memories
And all our feelings
58,000 soldiers gave their lives
58,000 names carved in stone
May they always be remembered
May they always be known*

"A Place We Go To Remember is a beautifully poignant musical tribute to the names, etched in stone, on the wall of the Vietnam Memorial."
